They Set Gotham Agog

One of the largest Spiritualist propaganda meetings ever to be held in New York City attracted, during the two evenings, about 1,500 people. (See Pages 12 and 13). These were the first public meetings to be sponsored by the American Foundation for Psychic Research, Inc., in a city other than Jamestown, New York.

The doors to the Crystal Ballroom in the Diplomat Hotel, New York City, opened at 6:30 and the program, featuring three of America's outstanding mediums, Rev. James Laughton, Rev. Clifford Bias and Rev. Edward Mackey, began promptly at eight.

Numerous photographs, some of which are published in this edition and others to appear later, were taken the first evening but not until the second session was the entire program taken down on a tape recording machine operated by the noted Welsh psychic researcher, G. Edgar Owen, Honesdale, Pennsylvania.

Juliette Ewing Pressing, president of the A. F. P. R., was in the chair both evenings. She introduced the psychics whose demonstrations included mental and physical mediumship.

A detailed report (starting page 2) of the entire meeting was submitted by a retired minister, Thomas F. Opie, D. D., of Great Barrington, Massachusetts. Mr. Opie is president and founder of "Outside Aid," an organization devoted specifically to patients in mental hospitals. This was Mr. Opie's first experience as a witness to any phase of mediumship and his article is, therefore, more important than anything the editors of this journal could report about this unusual Spiritualist meeting.

The entire second evening's tape recordings have been transcribed. Photographs were also taken. Some of these transcriptions and photographs appear in this edition. All the remaining photographs and transcriptions, including message services and psychic demonstrations, will be published in December 25th edition.

A report on the New York sessions of The American Foundation for Psychic Research, Inc.

An Objective Look at Demonstration Phenomena

A retired minister writer, author and seasoned newspaper reporter

Thomas F. Opie, D. D.

Great Barrington, Massachusetts

who witnessed a Spiritualist service and demonstration of psychic phenomena for the first time, tells the story . . .

How little most of us know, or even care, what the rest of us are doing! As one who has been concerned with every approach to religious philosophy and to inquiry in general, I journeyed down to New York City for the first general sessions of the recently organized "American Foundation for Psychic Research, Inc.," held October 18 and 19, in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Diplomat.

Certainly I had known something of the progress made in this field, especially by the Spiritualist devotees, but this was my initial first-hand look at a professional, mediumistic presentation of certain startling demonstrations in psychic phenomena.

But I think now of the millions of orthodox religious folk, and of practically the entire scientific world—who have had almost no part in the development of Spiritualism, as such, in the past hundred years — more particularly in the past decade or two. And an indifferent, or else a contemptible press has done mighty little to inform them or to inform themselves.

What I am about to write would stagger the imagination, not to say the credulity of those outside the circles of modern Spiritualism. I begin by saying unqualifiedly that I would stake my honor, I would stake the very destiny of my soul, on the correctness and the unassailability of this report. And I have "reported" in one way or another, for half a century, following a decade of actual daily newspapering. I would as soon attribute charlatanry, chicanery, fakery or trickery, in this regard, to the Reverends Edward J. Mackey, New York City, James Laughton, Detroit, or Clifford Bias, St. Petersburg, Florida, as I would attribute the traits of skunk-cabbage to an orchid.

Thomas F. Opie, D.D.
His "first time"

Having met these stalwart young mediums in person and having listened enthralled to their eloquent brilliance in half a dozen lectures, having been enriched and thrilled by their clairaudient and other mediumship on this occasion, and knowing that their demonstrations have been discredited by many reporters and other common folk, I assert that it seems to me almost like calling God a liar, to impute anything but integrity and honesty to these distinguished exponents of Spiritualism.

Not being identified with the Spiritualist movement as such, I have no machete to whet, and it would gain me nothing to "play up" what I saw and heard and otherwise experienced at the religious exercises referred to. Nor could any power make me, as a writer and an observer, not to say a minister of orthodoxy, "water down" an account of these amazing and convincing demonstrations of contact with discarnate intelligences.

Those promoting the meeting had put out some seven hundred chairs in the hall of assembly. But most of these were taken nearly an hour before the announced time of opening, and when the services began there were seven hundred and fifty persons in attendance—this for both sessions, which lasted a bit over two hours each.

And they were religious services — though they proved to hold the highest interest as entertainment, or "theatre" if you please—or profound religious emotion, and a level of reverence that I have not seen excelled. Prayers were addressed to "Infinite Spirit," or to "Eternal Intelligence," and were ended "in the name of Truth. Amen."

And it is in the name of Truth that I write, frankly. I still carry with me the "glow" of this exalted experience. Five or six straight lectures were delivered by the trio above-named. One hymn was sung, raised spontaneously by the Rev. Mr. Bias, during a mediumistic seance and was taken up con amore by the animated audience.

This was not an "organized" group, but was made up of Spiritualists from many places; of Catholics, Jews and Protestants, of Negroes and whites—all evidently folk of character and of the will-to-know. Before the end, they were overwhelmingly sympathetic, convinced, inspired—the devotees and the non-Spiritualists as well.

Juliette Ewing Pressing, of Jamestown, N. Y., President of the American Foundation for Psychic Research, Inc., her own lusty babe of a year and a half, proved a mistress of ceremonies at once charming and efficient. She looked like a picture, in her lovely evening gown, with orchid adornment and her grace and winsomeness won the hearts of men and women alike. Ralph Pressing too was on hand—a power behind the throne. There is a pair of which any movement might be proud. I think of them as the "Venus and Adonis" of the Spiritualist cause. They publish the Psychic Observer you know—and they asked this scribe to tell his impressions of this remarkable seance occasion, allowing me all the latitude necessary.

After her greeting and a short reference to the proposed modus operandi of her promising young child, A.F.P.R., Inc., Mrs. Pressing introduced the Rev. Mr. Mackey, Spiritualist pastor in the Metropolis and local arranger and promoter of the sessions at Hotel Diplomat. He delivered a notable lecture on Spiritualism and later on displayed psychic powers as a clairaudient medium which must have convinced even the most skeptical persons present.

All three of the mediums were heard in formal, indeed brilliantly organized addresses. Each one had its peculiar flair, constituting a look at the psychology of life and essentially at the Spiritualist interpretation of reality.

Clifford Bias presented one of the most unique and impressive bits of symbolic portrayal of man's upward climb that I have ever listened to. He pictured man primitive as struggling alone along the low-levels of human existence, making little progress in culture. From the higher levels a "Big Brother," an Angel Messenger, looks down from the heights and decides to lend a hand.

He approaches the primitive, a bearded, coarse being, hardly above the animal level, and touches him on the shoulder. He encourages him, he counsels and instructs—as to progressive development. Then Mr. Primitive gathers others around him and together they climb a step or two to a higher level.

Need we introduce . . .

"Venus" and "Adonis"

Here they are guided and inspired by Good Angels and presently they arrive at another shelf above. From this start, man climbs into ever higher grades, always with the help of Spirit—until we have modern man, with his amazing inventive and cultural and spiritual genius—ever aspiring, ever climbing.

This has been a spiritual evolution, with the aid of Higher Beings, the speaker asserted, from the beginning up to today—the Golden Chain of Communication with Spirit having never been broken. Man, these eloquent devotees contend, is, as a Child of God, ever being guided by Good Angels.

This, it would seem, is the irreducible of the Spiritualist philosophy. Man is essentially a spirit, clothed temporarily in a physical body—to be laid aside at the moment of what we badly name Death, which is merely a transition. And contact and communication do not end at the time of departure, as the spirits of the beloved, gone on before, are actually clamoring to get in touch with us, to assure us that they still live and still love those who remain on the earth-level—ever and ever bidding them to "come up higher," and to look forward to death as a Great Adventure, another Birth, to greater reality and to expanded consciousness.

That the deceased loved ones are literally clamoring for conscious contact with earthians was fully and completely and undeniably demonstrated during the mediumistic demonstrations. Presently you would hear Mr. Bias or Mr. Mackey or Mr. Laughton announce, "I get the name of So-and-So. Does that mean anything to any one present?"

He may give only the first name. Several persons present may answer in the affirmative. Then the medium, alert in all his faculties, and earnest and expectant, announces the full name of the spirit communicating. This is identified by someone in the audience, and the message service is on.

Brother, sister, mother, father, son, daughter, granny or gramp, then disclose, in detail, talking through the medium, episodes of the past, mentioning incidents and happenings, remembered, by recall, by the person in the audience, and all but invariably, the fact of identity is established.

One unseen intelligence gave it out that he was a former service man, whose plane "fell when some rather intimate details were disclosed, the nature of which the medium, per se, could not have been familiar with.

He then added, this man says that your nickname was "Billiken." "Is that right?" She said that it was and added, sotto voce, to me, in an aside, "I had not even thought of that nickname for sixteen years."

A former "lover" of a young lady in the audience was identified, while she herself was then seated with another gentleman. The spirit "wished her luck and happiness" in her new found love and then added, "But he is now wearing my watch!"

"Is that right?" asked the medium. They both assented that this was the case.

Another interesting case was that of an evidently cultured lady, a few seats removed from where I sat. Her brother, or some male connection who disclosed his desire to communicate, then came through.

"I do not know you," said the medium, "but this person tells me that some one connected with you is 'now interested in some special research in the field of science'—and that he is pursuing this work at Cape Cod. Is that correct?"

The question was answered with a convincing, "Yes, that is exactly the fact."

Then the medium added, "This spirit tells me that you have four objects in a little box which you treasure very highly—some things connected with him. Is that correct?"

When the lady admitted, with something of a blush of pleasure that this was the case, he went on, "Don't tell me what these four things are. Yes, they are four letters of his which you have treasured for a long time." This too was substantiated by the woman.

I could run on endlessly with this feature, all of which is a commonplace with the Spiritualists, but it is not necessary to cite other cases. There was a man who "was a suicide," who was identified by, I believe, a sister. He assured her that he was "all right now," however.

Then there was one who had gone some time when on earth with a wooden-leg. Other details, of course, were necessary, before he could be "located," and they were forthcoming, in detail, which seemed to satisfy the lady—and he added, "But in the spirit-world, my leg is all right."

Certainly there are objectors who will claim that the detailed data in these connections were all gathered beforehand, and that the alleged "medium" had crammed his memory with facts garnered by associates, previous to the demonstration.

Assuredly this could happen, where a few persons were called out, and time had been had to get some information about the family connections and the personal lives of some of those in the audience. But this simply falls down of its own weight.

There were at least two hundred or more cases of identity, with at least a thousand pertinent "facts" and remarkable details of an unusually veridical nature. Such an accomplishment would have been incredible — and it would have been impossible for the medium to carry this vast encyclopedia of facts and minute information, connected with several hundred individuals.

To accept such a premise, over against acceptance of "eventuality" in all these cases would certainly require more "gullibility" and much more credulity, than to admit that the fact of communication had been established as represented. Silly and stubborn objectors here remind me of some slimy hellgrammite trying to scale the Rock of Gibraltar.

And I repeat, to impute fraud or imposture to any one of these three obviously consecrated and honest men would be unworthy of any person who had wits enough to evaluate objective reality. I hardly know strong enough decent terms in which to express my contempt for this judgment. It is as if someone imputed the essence of a skunk's spray to holy water. Such a foolish and pusillanimous judgment would be tantamount to dubbing a hyacinth a poisonous cactus.

For many, the Extra Sensory Perception card-calling was a high light of the first evening's ceremonies. Clifford Bias, in less time than it takes to tickle this narrative out of the typewriter, while blind-folded, called off these twenty-five cards correctly, as if it were kindergarten procedure.

Now, Cliff is no faker. He would have nothing whatever to gain by trickery, by magic, legerdemain, or other subterfuge, in a setting of this kind—but he would have a reputation as an ordained minister to lose by ultimate exposure.

He had several disinterested persons to come forward and examine the adhesive tape with which he thoroughly criss-crossed his eyes, to attest that this was genuine adhesive tape, such as we all use in the home. He then had tied tightly around his forehead and over his eyes, a heavy dark blind.

I certify that he could no more have seen the cards, had their "face" been turned his way, instead of vice versa, than the reader of these lines could waltz on his own eye-brows. The deck of ESP cards was examined and thoroughly shuffled, as a gesture to the incredulous, placed back in the deck and handed to Mr. Bias.

Taking them out one by one, as fast as cards could be handled, he held them up to view, called them instantly and dropped them to the floor.

At Duke University where this card system was devised, the folk consider it a feat when as many as five or eight cards out of the twenty-five, are correctly called, without exposure to view. And they, I believe, attribute this calling to "telepathy."

The telepathy theory would require at least two minds being in on this, whereas the Spiritualist theory, which I myself accept, is that objective sources, Spirits in the Unseen, flash the card's insignia to the blind-folded medium — somewhat as your telegraph operator flashes the message to a distant point.

In fact, a friend who stood close to Mr. Bias during the demonstration told me of his own accord that he "heard" the voice from Beyond, indicating "Circles," "Wavy lines," "Cross," etc., as rapidly as the cards were drawn. I protest, there was no trickery whatever in this episode of the psychic.

Practically every open-minded man of us accepts the testimony of his senses, the acquired "evidence" in every field of human endeavor, the accumulation of testimony. Why do all but a relatively small number of Spiritualists perpetually close their prejudiced minds to the multiplied and still multiplying evidences in this field of phenomena? I ask myself this question over and over again—and I find no reasonable answer.

Just why the orthodox Christian repudiates communication, or any other form of psychic phenomena, I frankly do not know — cannot even imagine. As these three mediums, in one lecture after another, indicated, the ancient Scriptures are full of testimony: King Saul and the Medium of Endor; Jacob and the Wrestling Angel; Moses and his Burning Bush; the Hand-writing on the Wall, at Belshazzar's Feast; Peter in a Trance; the Master's whole life, the Angel's Annunciation; The Song of Gloria in Excelsis; Moses' and Elijah's Psychic Appearance on the Mount of Transfiguration; Peter and His Angelic Deliverance from Jail; Paul's Vision on the Highway; John's Communication with the Seven Spirits; Jesus' Repeated Appearances after the Crucifixion, etc.

Does this or does it not constitute "testimony" such as would carry conviction in any other of a score of fields of thought, experience and endeavor? My answer is, It most assuredly does.

But to the most dramatic episode of this remarkable Spiritualist demonstration. Mr. Bias had his aids distribute numerous plain white cards, about the size of a souvenir post-card. They were fresh from the stationery, still bound, and had not been tampered with by anyone. These cards were then examined by those receiving them and were then collected and placed in a small wicker basket, similar to those used in some churches in taking the offering.

Now let no smartalec contradict what follows. I was there, right up front and watched the entire procedure objectively and without prejudice. I had never seen anything like what eventuated. But there it was. It was an undeniable

"NATHANIEL" is a series of readable short sketches illustrating eternal truths—truths as well known to the little band of early Christians as to present day Spiritualists yet, then as now, beyond the ken of the spiritual leaders of the day.

The author is an elderly lawyer. His homely style, his sincerity, his horse sense, and his factual interpretation of the Bible stories has already revolutionized the thinking of many a Doubting Thomas. phenomenon, anybody, anywhere, to the contrary.

Another basket was placed on top of this container, into which the medium, Clifford Bias, also placed a bundle of new lead pencils, newly sharpened and previously unused. He also placed a bunch of old-fashioned flowers, including several red roses in the basket. Why the flowers, I do not know and did not inquire. But before me as I write, two days after the event, I have one of these roses, which I have kept fresh in my room.

Two persons from the audience, a young man and a young woman, strangers to each other, came forward, on request, took seats close to each other on the stage, facing the audience. The two baskets, forming a closed container for cards, pencils and flowers, were placed on the shoulders of the seated couple, and against their heads.

The medium then announced that he had noticed as he passed Town Hall in that section of the city, the words, "You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

"What is truth?" he asked. He then answered that truth is reality, and that science itself now admits that reality is Energy. All of the physical objects one sees about him are agglomerations of energy, formed by the maker of these objects. Personally, I think that energy is Spirit. Energy is God at work. It expresses not only in matter, but in love and in the transfer of thought, in color, in gravity, in electricity, in vibration.

"Do you feel any sensation?" asked the medium of the two who were holding the baskets, after a few moments had passed. They both said that they felt "vibrations". The medium explained that the purpose in this demonstration was to draw ectoplasmic energy from the bodies of these two individuals, so that the Spirits who were about, could manifest—which they did do, as was soon to appear.

I watched this procedure close up, from the moment the cards were handed out, to the time they were removed from the basket.

There was no opportunity whatever for trickery or any subterfuge—and there was no intention whatever on the part of Cliff Bias or his associates to "fool" anybody. These men are not magicians, but serious-minded, accredited ministers of religion, out solely to demonstrate the fact of a Spirit-Mental world, and to show to all and sundry that Holy Spirits, God's Angels and Messengers, do hover over the earth-plane and that they do have "techniques".

"If anybody wishes to come up and listen they may do so," went on Mr. Bias. "You will hear a slight sound that is like a movement among dried leaves."

I myself went on the stage and listened. There was apparently a rustling of the cards in the container, which seemed to me like a timid mouse's noise as it crept over dead leaves. But no one had touched the cards themselves—that is, no human being contacted them, to write, paint, mark or otherwise alter the cards. Nor had the cards been tampered with previous to this demonstration. Nor were these cards "prepared" material, with any undisclosed writing or figures, or markings, that might be "brought out" by any "magical" or other process.

After about five minutes the baskets were placed on a table and several men and women began taking them out, one by one.

"When you come to a card that has any markings on it," advised Mr. Bias, "hand it over to me."

I followed this procedure myself, not knowing what to expect, nor what was intended. The man near me had lifted a dozen or more cards from the container, which were as blank as when they went in. Then he came upon one, two, three—a dozen or more cards which contained writing. As I type this, I have before me two of these cards which were unclaimed, though scores were claimed and those receiving them, by name and identification, seemed content to believe that they had "received a message" from the Spirit world.

One of my cards is addressed to "Caroline Rudsit" and is signed "Master Hicks." In its center there is a pale sketch of a lad worked out artistically, in a celestial figure, possibly intended to be the boy himself.

In red penciling, in an even and bold hand, appears this writing: "Strive not to become holy for yourself. Strive to become holy as others strive to become holy, but only that you can forget yourself for others. Love never seeks self for self. Love always seeks to give. Love is the first step on the Upward Way."

If this were merely some magician's prank, some bit of chicanery, some stage trick (and many an effort to confuse thought and conclusion in an affair of this sort, has been resorted to by opponents of Spirit matters) certainly I would not devote a moment's thought to it, nor take an instant's time out of my occupations, even to refer to it, much less to regard it as worthy of either my own or the reader's attention, in a lengthy paper.

But since this demonstration really proves that non-human hands were at work, to give messages from an Unseen Level of Spirit, to a hundred or more people assembled in a religious setting of any sort, then I make no apology for dealing with it in detail.

I am as convinced of something "spiritually magical," in this amazing demonstration, as I am of the reality of my radio message, my televised floor-show or what have you. Here then is something spiritually and eternally significant.

The other card in my possession is written in brown penciling, in back-hand script. It is addressed to "Celia P." and is signed "Noel". In the upper left there is a neat drawing of a lighted candle, golden flame, pink body and brown pedestal.

The inscription: "Celia P.—dear one of earth—The way by which to grow is to shed the personal in order to become impersonal: to shed the limited in order to expand. How can the God within you manifest itself — your own divine consciousness—until the imperfect, the small, the constricted has been surpassed and cast aside? It is in impersonality that lies immortality; in personality lies death. Therefore grow, expand, evolve, become what you are within."

It ought to be said that while many unbelieving folk remain incredulous about all this, because they maintain that "nothing absolutely unknown" comes through, they miss the mark. If my brother is on the high seas and his ship sinks and I get word from some reliable authority that he has been drowned—but later on I receive a cable from him in Paris or London, significance does not hinge upon the "contents" of that message!

My brother does not have to tell me about the details of French or English life and manners. It is the FACT of a bona fide "message" from my relative, who I thought was dead and gone, that counts.

And suppose some Spirit were to get across to us something unknown, unimagined, unconceived by anybody who ever lived on this planet, how could he evaluate it? What meaning could it have for us? "If I tell you of earthly things and you will not believe, how will you believe if I tell you of heavenly things?"

I was shown a number of these cards bearing messages. There was one written from left to right and it had to be held before a mirror in order to be read intelligently. One was a subtle writing, in Latin. It was worked out in bold block type, written around an artistic design of a cross with a rosette in the center.

A stranger asked me if I could "interpret" the message. I read the simple Latin wording, which was personal, and given "in the Holy Spirit of Jesus," etc.

There were several scores of these messages. And at one time, during a clairaudient (clear-hearing) episode in the program, the hall must have been teeming with Unseen Beings, as the three mediums were relaying messages at the same moment, as fast as they could put them into vocal expression.

I ask, in all seriousness, if your radio or your video can pick up "vibrations" out of the ether-of-space and give them to the human ear and the human eye, why may not the sensitive brain cells of such consecrated souls as Bias, Laughton and Mackey, accomplish a comparative feat?

Again, if a distinguished astronomer at Chicago University can boldly suggest that there are "civilizations" out in space, as far in advance of us in culture as we are in advance of a single life cell—then why argue against the suggestion that some of these Celestials have developed a technique of communication with us dull earthians?

"I believe in the communion (communication) of saints." That is an orthodox declaration that has been in the official formularies for eighteen centuries. Why not take it out of the book and put it into practice? I tell you that this holy experience of mine, with these holy men of God, the Spiritualist mediums, was as real and as evidential as any "sacrament" I have ever attended at the altar of orthodoxy.

These Christian devotees are pioneering for the rest of us—for the whole struggling human family—and it is both ungracto have this meeting, the first, or I should say the second of the series, in this great metropolitan city.

"The true significance could be thought of in this way. At the portals of this city, stands the Statue of Liberty holding a lighted torch that welcomes all peoples from all lands. Spiritualism and the angel loved ones are ever holding upward their torch — urging mankind to look up, come higher and meet with them. And that is what Spiritualism really does. It is a religion that spells freedom and this Foundation has been designed for the very purpose of bringing messages of freedom and the emancipation of the soul to as many of the human family as possible; and I know a bit later you, too, will feel so happy to be here to enjoy this honor of having three of America's outstanding mediums lecture and demonstrate for you.

"Rev. Mr. James Laughton, who is to speak first tonight, is not unknown to New York audiences; nor is he unknown anywhere in America. But there are some who haven't heard him so I know you are going to have a fine treat.

"I look upon Mr. Laughton with sort of a motherly feeling because I can remember when he became a bit scared because he didn't know whether the spirit people could get through. He has taken hold of my hand and asked 'old Judy' if she reckoned he could get anything. I never shall forget the first time he was the medium for the Etta Bledsoe meeting at Camp Chesterfield. He was shaking like a leaf all day. I can assure you he isn't like that now.

"And so, it gives me great pleasure, indeed, to present to you a great crusader for truth, a great medium, the Rev. James Laughton of Detroit, Michigan." (Applause)

James Laughton speaks: "It is a pleasure to be back here with you folks tonight. When Mrs. Pressing said she looked upon me in a motherly manner, I glanced at her and felt: 'What a young mother I have.'

"I am sure many of you were at the meeting last evening. I hope I might be inspired by spirit to bring a word of encouragement, especially to strangers, for many questions are often asked in the field of Spiritualism.

"Perhaps many people last night went away saying: 'I do not understand it, but I think it was wonderful.' One man came to me and said:

'It is the most marvelous thing I ever heard. How do you do it?' I said: 'Just exactly as you heard it upon this platform.'

(Applause)

"I remember a few years ago, before I was a medium or even a Spiritualist—my family were Presbyterians—in the Sunday School classes I was always fascinated by the old Bible stories of the past. And I often wondered what a fine thing it would have been to have lived back in the time of Christ and the prophets of old.

"And I thought how unfortunate today that we cannot witness the phenomena Jesus was able to demonstrate. This was because I knew nothing of spirit manifestations as I know them today. But, since I became a medium, I began to understand the great philosophy of communication and now I realize that the golden chain has never been broken because there have been manifestations of spirit all through the ages. In our Bible, from Genesis to Revelations, and all through the Scriptures, it speaks of manifestations of spirit.

"If a spirit, or an angel, or a disembodied entity as we say today, had never returned out of that other consciousness, we would have no religion today—because all religions, even Catholic and Protestant, are based upon psychic manifestation.

"It tells us in our Bible that Peter of old was a trance medium; he fell in a trance, and lo, he had a great vision, and he heard the voices of spirits speaking unto him.

"Jesus prophesied, Paul believed in spiritual gifts for in Corinthians it reads: 'Some shall have the gift of prophecy.'

"Do we find prophecy in our orthodox churches? No! But we find it in Spiritualism today

"Paul also said that there shall be those who have the gift of tongues and be touched by the spirit—meaning an entity speaking through the body of the medium.

"And he also said there shall be those among you that shall have the gift of the discerning of spirits. So, St. Paul must have been a medium, yes a clairvoyant. He had to be psychic in order to be inspired to write the wonderful things that today are in our Scriptures.

"So we mediums upon this platform, and many mediums out in the audience, know we have the gift of discerning spirits, and the gift of healing, for we know these are the gifts of spirit.

"Today in our scientific world, we have heard many of the great psychologists, scientists and psychiatrists who say there are many hidden recesses of the mind. In other words, man may have more than five senses. Dr. Alexis Carrel, in his book, Man the Unknown, said man had a sixth sense and that there are those who are able to see into the future as well as into the past.

"Most of us, however, are only conscious of our five senses. Many wonderful experiments have been taking place today in some of our great universities. I always like to honor the great work of Dr. Joseph Banks Rhine. I think the research work he has done is remarkable. I remember reading his book. At the very end, he states that if the world or the churches had never taught immortality of the soul, the very discoveries made in universities today would startle the world.

"In other words, they have discovered that man has a soul (spirit) and that there is something that leaves the body after the change called physical death.

"And so, all of the wonderful things the scientists are finding out about the great human family coincide with the manifestations of spirit. All of these things, mind you, are not solely confined to the philosophy of Spiritualism or to the seance room. No, if you read the lives of some of the saints in the Catholic Church, you will find that many wonderful things happened in their lives, too.

"There were many manifestations of spirit. I have read the story of St. Theresa and it tells how, while in mediation, her body was levitated into mid-air. We would call her a physical medium and other psychic power applies to a materialization or a direct-voice medium.

"But our good friends in the Catholic Church choose not to use these expressions. She was levitated in mid-air just the same as the Christ when he stood upon a mountain with Peter, James and John—and lo—when they turned, he too, was levitated before their very eyes.

"And then, you remember, many fell upon their faces when they heard a voice speaking: 'I am Moses,' and Elias also spoke. Men that had been 'dead' many years before the great Galilean walked in the flesh.

"When they came away from the mountain, Jesus saw that the disciples were afraid and did not understand the manifestation of the spirit for he said: 'Go your way and tell no man of this.'

"Many times in the seance room

today, I have heard the voice of spirit speak to someone who never experienced that type of phenomena before. Such individuals usually become enthused and feel they should tell the family about it, but they know they will not believe.

"Many times the spirit has said: 'No, tell them nothing. They are not ready.' That, to me is the same principle as the disciples who were fascinated by the personality and the mediumship of the ancient Jesus.

"And so today, as mediators and as Spiritualists, we know there is no death. In the first place, there could be no death. The body has not life without the spirit. And a body never had life until the spirit was housed in the body.

"There is no real death—the body disintegrates and goes back to the chemicals of the earth. And the spirit transcends out into a greater consciousness.

"We Spiritualists do not believe that, when we depart from out of this physical shell, we will meet the Christ face to face, or do we believe we will meet the Blessed Virgin Mother

"We do not believe we have progressed enough consciously to be in the proper rate of vibration for attunement with these great souls who lived thousands of year ago.

"But we do believe we will enter into a condition created for ourselves by our lives upon earth. Perhaps our Catholic friends may call it purgatory. Sometimes Spiritualists are misinformed and do call it the darkened planes, but I have never heard a spirit return and say they were in that kind of darkness.

"They might, however, be in mental darkness or in ignorance. Heaven and hell are states of mind. You will never be in any more of a heaven or hell than you are right now. There isn't any man upon a throne in the sky (called God) that is going to have a wand or a whip to tell you you must enter into a burning fire, or perhaps to be tormented after death because of your so-called sins upon this earth.

"No, that power lies within you because your deeds judge your own life. In other words, you must work out your own salvation. The great teachings of the Master Christ in the past, if followed, can save you. This can be the world's greatest philosophy because it is plain common sense.

"And I repeat that He cannot save you. You must save yourself, alone. You are the one that will be the judge.

"We have to learn to live in harmony while we are in the body so that we might live in harmony out in the world of spirit. There is no organized religion on the face of the earth today that is more consoling or more logical than Spiritualism. Spiritualism is not only the name of a religion but it is religion comparatively new with other religions. Its philosophy and proofs of the manifestations of spirit are as old as time itself for entities have been returning from the spirit world throughout all of the centuries past.

"There is one question everyone has asked: 'If a man dies, shall he live again?' I visualize that old church I attended in the northwest part of Canada. I remember a neighbor lady whose son was killed on a toboggan slide in the winter. We attended the funeral. As a youngster, I did not understand the meaning of death but knew this boy had not died

"We all stood by the grave as they lowered his casket into the earth and the anguish upon that mother's face was something that nobody could understand until they had had a similar experience. She turned to the minister and said: 'My boy! Where has he gone?' The minister replied: 'Have faith, for he is asleep in Jesus.'

But these words did not soften the blow of death within the mother's heart and she left the church because she received no sensible answer.

"As a Spiritualist and as a minister, I have conducted many funerals and many times after the funeral, we have held a seance and the loved one, who has just passed on, could be heard rejoicing.

"There would not be the anguish of death. Those remaining would not have the feeling that their loved ones lay in the cold ground forever. No, they would know that the spirit had taken flight out yonder into the greatness of life that you and I know so little of even with the things that we hear from the spirit world. Therefore, we feel that Modern Spiritualism has touched the hearts of millions. It has debunked the old tale of superstition and fear.

"Many of the old creeds are dying in the dust of time but there will arise greater knowledge and greater understanding. When the Master walked upon the earth, there was no question but that he was asked much he could not answer about immortality, about life upon the earth, where we came from or where we were going.

"Today, there are many religions and even through they are good and inspiring, they leave you at the grave. When my own mother departed into the spirit, just five years ago, many people said to me: 'Were you sad when your mother went away?'

My reply: 'I wasn't sad because my mother went away. I was sad because I lost a friend.'

"Perhaps, you wonder: 'I don't know why I don't hear from an old neighbor or a relative that has been gone for 20 years. Why don't I hear from them?'

"Our family held a seance a short time after my mother's passing, but my mother did not speak to us. We could not understand it. Why didn't she come? The spirit guides that spoke told us nothing about her.

"Finally, after many months had passed, she suddenly spoke in one of my seances. We asked: 'Mother, where have you been—traveling?'

'Out in a great land,' she replied. 'Why, I have been across the water visiting my friends upon the earth. I met my mother face to face and I was so filled with the glorious spirit so much so that I really was not conscious of time. I did not think. I came many times but did not have an opportunity to voice.'

And so, you must realize that sometimes the friends you do not hear from immediately after death are so engrossed with the greatness of spirit that they do not immediately go out of their way to return. And I also believe that many people who enter that other expression never have the desire to return.

"Perhaps it is like you and I growing up from childhood in a neighborhood where we have known everybody for years. When we reach adulthood and go away, occasionally we do go back to the old neighborhood but there are other things on our minds. We are continually progressing and so we really never desire to go back to the old neighborhood. We have made new friends—we have new interests.

"Probably that is the same way with some of the spirit people you never hear from. Perhaps they are so engrossed in what they are learning there that they continue on into something greater than you and I could ever know of.

CHURCH NEWS

Detroit, Michigan

A letter just received from Gusta A. Bessie, pastor of the Christian Universal Spiritual Church, 15756 Lamphere Road, Detroit, Michigan, reports growing interest in the church activities and increasing attendance each Sunday.

Mrs. Bessie was a delegate at the recent Federation convention at Denver and expresses her belief that nothing can be more enlightening than a visit to a convention of this type where all views are expressed and new ideas presented.

After all that is the purpose of a convention and many Spiritualist ministers have found that, upon their return, they are able to enter into their work with broader viewpoints and greater tolerance.

Chicago, Illinois

The sixteenth anniversary of the Evangelical Spiritual Church, 654 North Parkside Ave., Chicago, was celebrated November 5th last. The church, valued at $20,000, was filled to capacity. Services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Harry M. Hillborn; Rev. Bessie L. Wells, Jackson, Michigan, assisting.

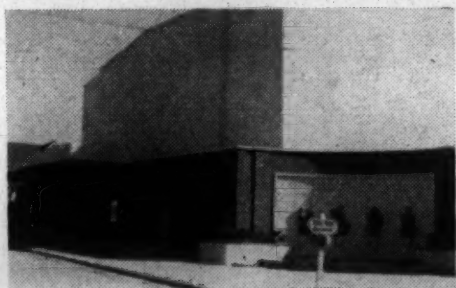

Daytona Beach, Florida

There is a new church in Daytona Beach. It is the First Spiritualist Temple and Healing Center, located at 825 South Ridgewood Avenue.

The pastor of the church, Rev. La Verne Garlent, set December 3rd as the opening date. Services were held in the afternoon at the Peabody Auditorium which seats over 3,000 people. The charter was presented by Rev. Elsie Fishburn Hicks of Ormond Beach.

Rev. Garlent says: "We planned an elaborate program for our opening day. We will continue to specialize on healing and try to make good use of the knowledge received from the spirit world."

Peabody Auditorium, Daytona Beach, Florida, where Spiritualist services are being held.

Regular services will be held every Friday evening at 825 South Ridgewood Avenue. Classes for spiritual unfoldment are being formed. For reservations, phone: Daytona Beach, 2-3348.

Santa Cruz, California

For the past several years, the Revs. Littler (Irene M. and Woodrow W.) conducted services every Sunday and Wednesday evening at Hackley Hall, 322 Church Street, Santa Cruz, California.

Through the cooperation of Rev. Jeanette Stine Wolford, the Rev. Bertie Lillie Candler served the Revs. Little's House of Spiritual Communion at Santa Cruz and conducted several outstanding materialization seances. The report states that 28 out of 33 persons were satisfied. Their testimony is a matter of record.

The Rev. Candler, while in the vicinity, spent several weeks as a guest of the Rev. Wolford, pastor of the Church of Revelation, Hanford, California.

San Bernardino, California

Tressa Phillips (see photo this page) was ordained October 15th in the Church of Revelation, No. 14, San Bernardino, according to church secretary, Vivian E. Cogswell. Rev. Ruth I. Roberts officiated.

West Hempstead, New York

According to Rev. Marion Miller, pastor of the Spiritual Church of Magdalena, 559 Henry Street, West Hempstead, Long Island, New York, services for the fall and winter months include lectures, demonstrations of clairvoyance and direct-voice seances. Many Spiritualists in metropolitan New York journey to this Nassau County Spiritualist church where they have an opportunity to witness the work of an outstanding medium who has served the cause of Spiritualism for over 20 years.

For a number of summer seasons, during August, the Rev. Miller has been listed on the official program of Camp Silver Belle, Ephrata, Pennsylvania.

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Word has just been received from Rev. LeRoy McBride, secretary of the Spiritualist Church of Divine Science, that their pastor, Rev. Bernice Brock, has recovered from her recent illness.

With Sunday evening services and two mid-week services, Thursday afternoon and evening, the Rev. Brock will continue to serve her church at 1615 Wells Street in the city of Ft. Wayne. She is a lecturer, mental and inspirational medium and has earned an enviable reputation throughout the Middle West. She is a Lyceum Superintendent of the I. S. S. A. and a staff medium at Camp Chesterfield, Chesterfield, Indiana.

Assisting Rev. Brock at most church services: Omer Brock, Le Roy McBride, Clara Cohagen and Evelyn La Baw.

Early in 1951, the Spiritualist Church of Divine Science will begin construction on a new edifice. They have purchased two lots on the corner of Pierce and South Wayne Streets, and the plans call for a building 40x60 feet.

San Francisco, California

The annual bazaar, sponsored each year by the Golden Gate Spiritualist Church of San Francisco, was held December 1st and 2nd on the fourth floor of the Native Sons Building, 414 Mason Street. This is referred to by the church pastor, Rev. Florence S. Becker, as the annual Christmas Bazaar. All monies realized are for the benefit of the church building fund.

Those contributing to its success were: Carl Nielson, Frances Mac-Millan, William Bushnell, Ivan Henderson, Lucille Hamilton, Ivora McKendry, Mary V. Waugh and Patrick World.

Detroit, Michigan

According to Rev. Robert Chaney, appellate clergyman of the Spiritualist Episcopal Church, Rev. Maude Fox and Rev. Loretta Schmitt are now affiliated with the S.E.C.

For years both have been outstanding mediums continuing their work as members of the staff of mediums at Chesterfield Spiritualist Camp, Chesterfield, Indiana. They are both outstanding lecturers, mental and direct-voice mediums, and possess a rare phase known as independent drawing.

Kansas City, Missouri

Louise Thraillkill was ordained recently at the Truth Center of Christianity, 3841 Broadway, Kansas City, Missouri, Meurice D. Russell, D.D., officiated.

Elmira, New York

At a special service in Elmira's Odd Fellows Temple, Beatrice Walker, 213 East Miller Street, Elmira, was ordained into the ministry of Spiritualism under the Universal Psychic Science auspices by Rev. Joseph La Barr and Rev. Ruth La Barr, Tulley, N. Y.

The Rev. Walker has been a medium for over 20 years. Her eight children, four sons and four daughters, are all Spiritualists. Until recently, she was assistant pastor of the First Spiritualist Church of Elmira.

The Rev. Walker is a member of the Freeville Spiritualist Camp and possesses various phases of mediumship according to Harry C. Gardner, noted Elmira Spiritualist psychic researcher. These phases of mediumship include, according to Gardner, trance, clairvoyance, clairaudience and on rare occasions, her class students report evidence substantiating independent-voice and apport.

Kenosha, Wisconsin

Rev. Frederick W. Mitchell and his wife, Phyllis, report progress since taking over the Temple of Spiritual Truth, 6333 Sheridan Road, Kenosha, Wisconsin. For years, they have worked earnestly for the cause of Spiritualism. They usually plan a trip to Florida but this year may forego this journey and concentrate all of their time in building their present church.

During the recent months, they were privileged to have as guest mediums, the Rev. Louie Hill (see photos this page) of London, England, and Rev. Amelia Pope of Madison, Wisconsin.

Each week the Rev Mitchell conducts two classes for spiritual unfoldment and this, in addition to his Sunday and mid-week services, affords Spiritualists in that vicinity continuous spiritual support—all of which is necessary when building a successful church.

She is the author of the books, "Man's Self and Man's Inheritance" and "Man's Desires and Fulfillments," written under the pen-name of "Burning Sand."

Frederick, Maryland

Our most consistent correspondent, Clair Fellows, Frederick, Maryland, seems to think that the case for Spiritualism would be greatly benefited if extra copies of Psychic Observer, were purchased specially by enthusiastic Spiritualists for free distribution.

During the past ten years, over a half million copies of Psychic Observer have been given away, the entire cost having been borne by the publisher. Not only the cost and actual printing, but postage besides.

Mr. Fellows seems to think that we should print in bold letters on the front page, and keep it there, these words: "When you have finished reading this journal, mail it to someone bereaved, or leave it on some bus, train, or library."

This notice can and will appear if we receive sufficient letters to that effect. The only catch is how many Spiritualists will spend 15c and then give the paper away. At the moment, we are aware that in some towns, one Psychic Observer is now being bought and then read by over a dozen people. True, one person subscribes and then it is carted back and forth midst friends. There is nothing like spreading the truth providing it doesn't cost you anything.

Newark, New Jersey

Owing to a misunderstanding, we are publishing, by special request, the above picture which was taken March 30, 1946, when the late Rev. Kate Hazelwood (see photo to the left) was ordained to the ministry of Spiritualism. Those witnessing the ordination ceremony: Rev. Elizabeth Briggs, Rev. August G. Miller, Rev. Rufus Pratt, Carrie Schaufler, Myrtle E. Moore and Grace Gillard. These people were not only witnesses but they signed the certificate of ordination, according to Rev. H. C. Millare, present pastor of the Divine Psychic Mission of Consolation of which Rev. Hazelwood was pastor for many years.

In his letter, Rev. Millare says: "As an ordination automatically makes the ordained candidate an associate minister of the ordaining church, so this establishes the valid status of the affiliation and connection of the late Rev. Hazelwood with the Divine Psychic Mission of Consolation of Union City, New Jersey."

At the time of her passing, Rev. Hazelwood was pastor of the Church of Spiritual Promotion and Harmony, 532 Springfield Avenue, Newark, New Jersey. It is in this church that Rev. Millare is carrying on the work of the former pastor.

Santa Barbara, California

The picture left, submitted by Rev. Johanna Ruhnau, shows the Rev. Iona Brandt (facing the audience) delivering a lecture in the Universal Chapel of Light, Santa Barbara, California. During her visit, the Rev. Brandt of St. Louis, Missouri, conducted materialization seances in the church sanctuary and according to Rev. Ruhnau, Tisma, her spirit teacher, materialized and delivered a short philosophical discourse.

Many notables appeared — fully materialized. They were: Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Elizabeth Browning, Maude Lord Drake and Grace Moore. Testimonials properly signed were submitted by Rev. Ruhnau. These are on file at the Psychic Observer office.

Long Beach Church Dedicated

One of New York's favorite Spiritualist churches will hold "Open House" Sunday, December 17th when the Cathedral of Faith, Inc., 205 West 80th Street, will welcome visitors who come especially for the occasion.

During the hours, one to seven, the pastor of the church, Bishop Richard Renardo (see photo this page) and his Board of Trustees will extend the "hand of fellowship" to all. The church was dedicated September 24th by Rev. Louise Cannon and Rev. Shepherd according to church secretary, Ethel C. Baker.

Bishop Renardo conducts message services every Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evening at 7; also Wednesday and Friday afternoon at 2. For information relative to "Open House" gathering at the church, beginning at 1 P. M., Sunday, December 17th, phone: TRafalgar 3-0994.

N. S. A. Suggests

A specific form under which N.S. A. Sunday evening church services may conform is outlined in their official organ, "The National Spiritualist."

This form suggests that all services start at 7:45 P. M. with a fifteen minute congregational song service. After the opening hymn and invocation, the declaration of principles is read, after which they suggest a spirit healing prayer and affirmation. Music, song, or a hymn can precede the lecture, which is usually followed by a free-will offering and announcements.

Beginning at 9:00 P. M., there can be a message service not exceeding 45 minutes. The service concludes with the doxology and benediction.

WHAT BECOMES OF A MAN WHEN HE DIES? The Answer—HE STILL LIVES AND SO WILL YOU! That Answer must be true, else those who have died, as we call it, could not ever be alive—in heaven. Because God lives eternally; and "God created man in His own image"; Every created man must have eternal life. But he will not always have a flesh and bone body for "we shall be changed." This book is based upon the Bible, and communications received through the mediumship of Pierre L. O. A. Keeler and H. Gordon Burroughs.
